

Sincerely yours,
Ted Kaczynski

THE UNABOMBER LETTERS

A YAHOO NEWS SPECIAL REPORT

"I love you, Teddy"

One of Kaczynski's biggest frustrations was his inability to find female companionship, but after he was arrested, letters began rolling in from the opposite sex.

All letters and documents are property of the University of Michigan Library's Labadie Collection.

The selection was curated by Yahoo News

YAHOO!

NEWS

Theodore J. Kaczynski
Lewis and Clark County Jail
Helena MT 59624
April 11, 1996

05-1781

Aletha Heller # 15581
C Cottage, EMCF
P.O. Box 4004
Clinton NJ 08809

Dear Ms. Heller:

Thank you very much for taking the trouble to write to me. Unfortunately, in composing your letter, you seem to have forgotten that a person is innocent until proven guilty. That is all I can say to you about my case, since my lawyer forbids me to talk about it with anyone. But I'm glad you wrote to me anyway, because it is always a great pleasure to hear from a pretty lady.

I hope that you will soon be released from your present confinement, and I wish you the best of luck.

Sincerely yours,

Theodore J. Kaczynski

Dear Ted,

hi, well I quit my job. I was getting extremely fat. I've lost 5 lbs since I quit. I want to loose 60 lbs. I need to. I'm about Ready to start doing interior building work. I have to get supplies. This is going to be the biggest job I have ever undertaken. If it looks good, I'll be so happy. Ideally, I needed a Victorian Home but since I don't have one, I have to accept that. What I plan on doing would look Great in a Victorian home. Oh well.

I have to buy plywood tomorrow and aviator snips so I can cut out around the light fixtures. It could be a disaster but I've got to do it. I fixed my toilet today - Saved 50$ on a plumber. I put a light fixture in without an Electrician - That was hard. I'll be really psyched if the ceiling Renovations go well. I need a more aesthetic environment. I'm going to build a fish aquarium and put Lilly's in - a Big tank - not an aquarium - More like a mini pool.

after I finish these projects, I'll go to Montana. I want to Build → a very small structure there - I can't afford a lot. I want ~~an~~ some shelter that I can develop so I can live there & further Build as I am able.

It's all very small time stuff but I feel more alive this way, than at a Keyboard typing 9 1/2 hrs.
I'm just not a Rat Race happy person.

Well, I'll let you know how the ceiling is in a month or two.
If you don't hear from me, that will mean, I did a bad job. I'm on a meat diet - It's going well.

Take Care,
Love,

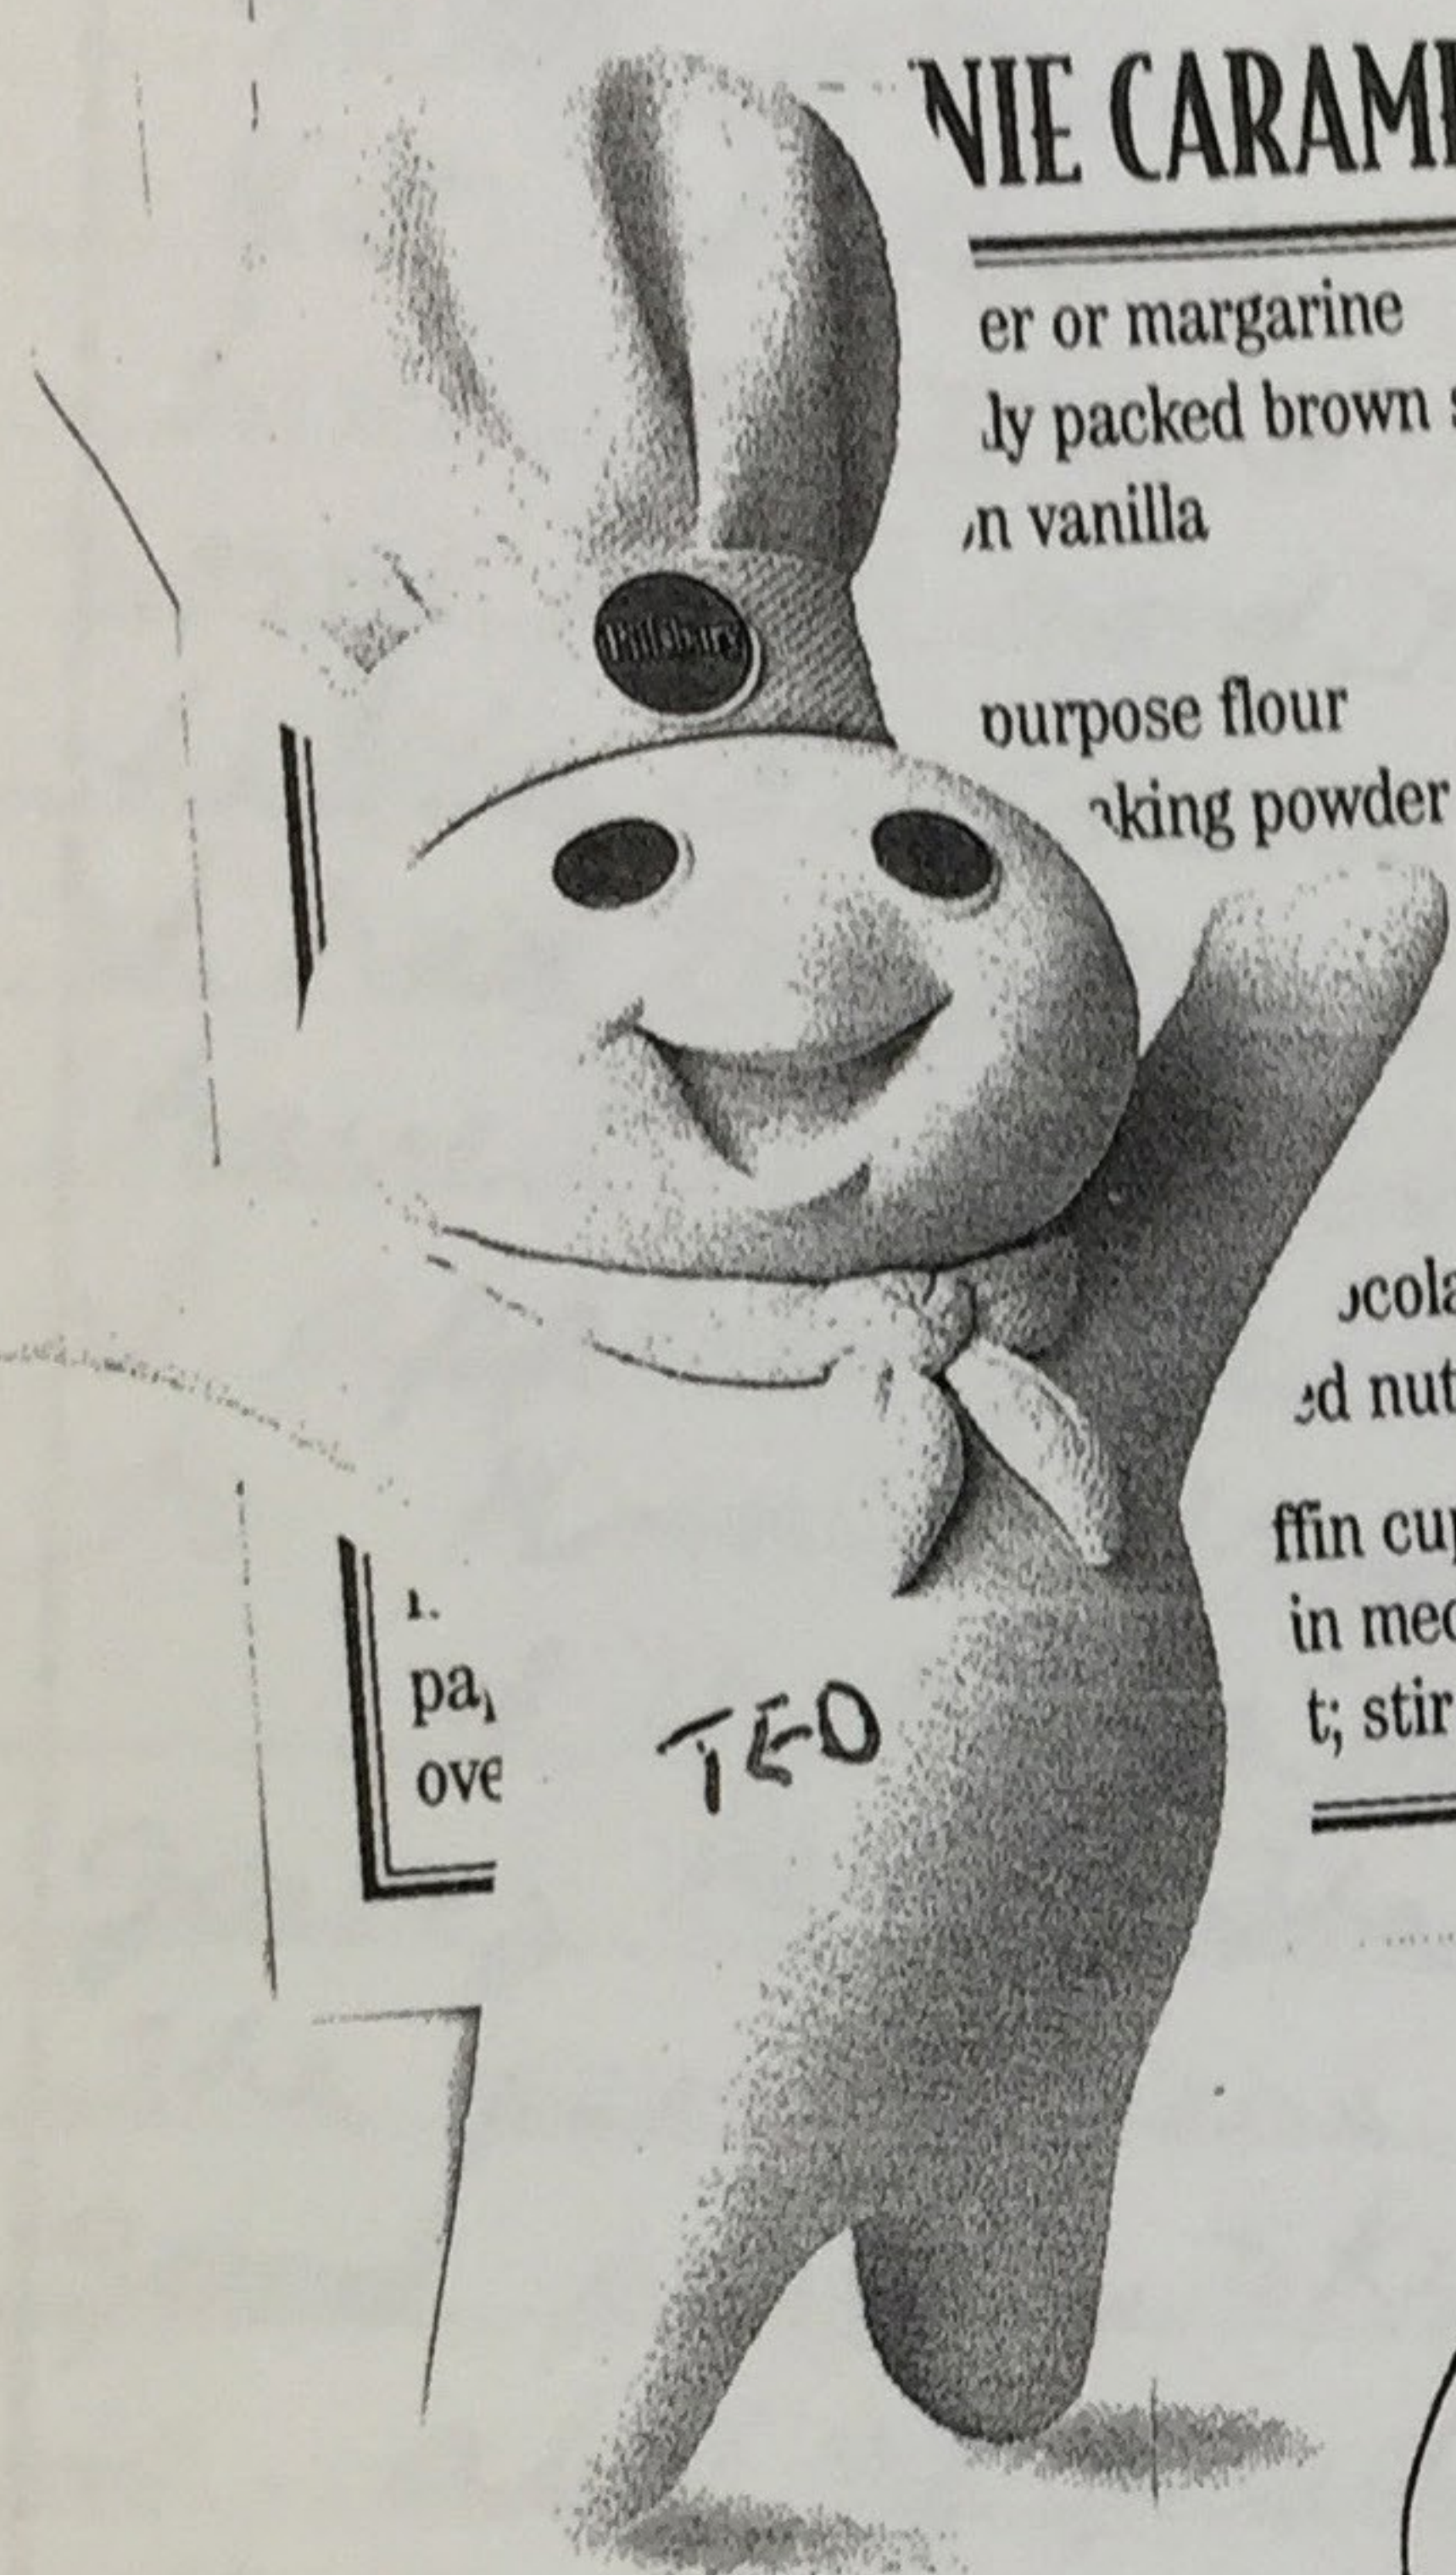

Dad,

I've got nothing to say. I saw your picture in the paper & you look very good. I know your more intelligent than most of us so I can only hope you can assist your Lawyers.

I regret that I did not go out to Montana sooner & find you. I always felt like I didn't have enough money & I felt there was someone for me in that state but I didn't know where to go. I'm psychic But not a great psychic.

I met him and talked

Northwest Airline
Flight 395

NIE CARAMEL CUPS

er or margarine
ly packed brown sugar
n vanilla

urpose flour aking powder

ocolate chips ed nuts

ffin cups with foil or in medium saucepan
t; stir in brown sugar.

Add vanilla and egg; mix well. Add flour, baking powder and salt; blend well. Stir in 1/2 cup chopped nuts. Divide batter evenly into lined muffin cups. Bake at 350°F. for 16 to 20 minutes or until golden brown.

In small saucepan over low heat, melt caramels with water; stir constantly until smooth. Immediately after pans are removed from oven, place chocolate chips evenly into middle of each cupcake. Spoon scant tablespoon caramel over chocolate chips in each cup. If necessary, stir additional water into melted caramels to maintain spoonable consistency. Sprinkle 1/4 cup nuts evenly over cupcakes. Cool completely. Store in tightly covered container. 16 cupcakes.

HIGH ALTITUDE - Above 3500 Feet: Increase flour to 1 1/4 cups. Bake as directed above.

Pillsbury

© 1996, The Pillsbury Company. All Rights Reserved.

P.S. Its unlikely I'll loose weight. As you can see, I'm with pillsbury now. I'm NOT perfect either

This recipe will perk you up.
There's lots of love in every cup!

Feel better soon!

Dear Ted,
My plane will leave Cal. Dec 20th.
My Boss O.K.'d me to visit a Christmas friend. (That's you) I'll find a place in Sacramento to stay. I'll bake you some cookies. I hope I can see you. I'm very safe.
I just want to make sure you're O.K.
Love,

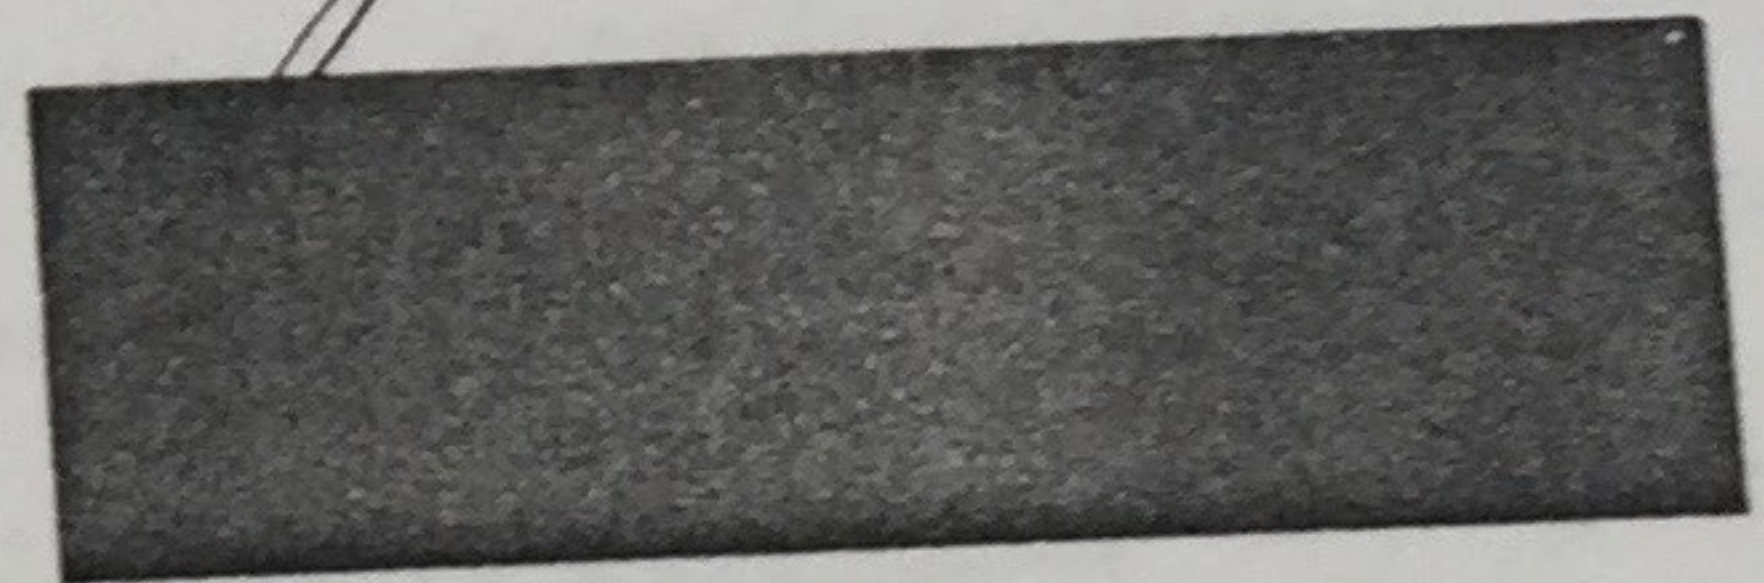

August 16, 1996

Hello! Mr Kaczynski,

I just wanted to say 'Hello' to you and that I still think very much of you.

Daily, I kiss your handsome laminated picture on my wall.

Best regards,

July 24, 1996

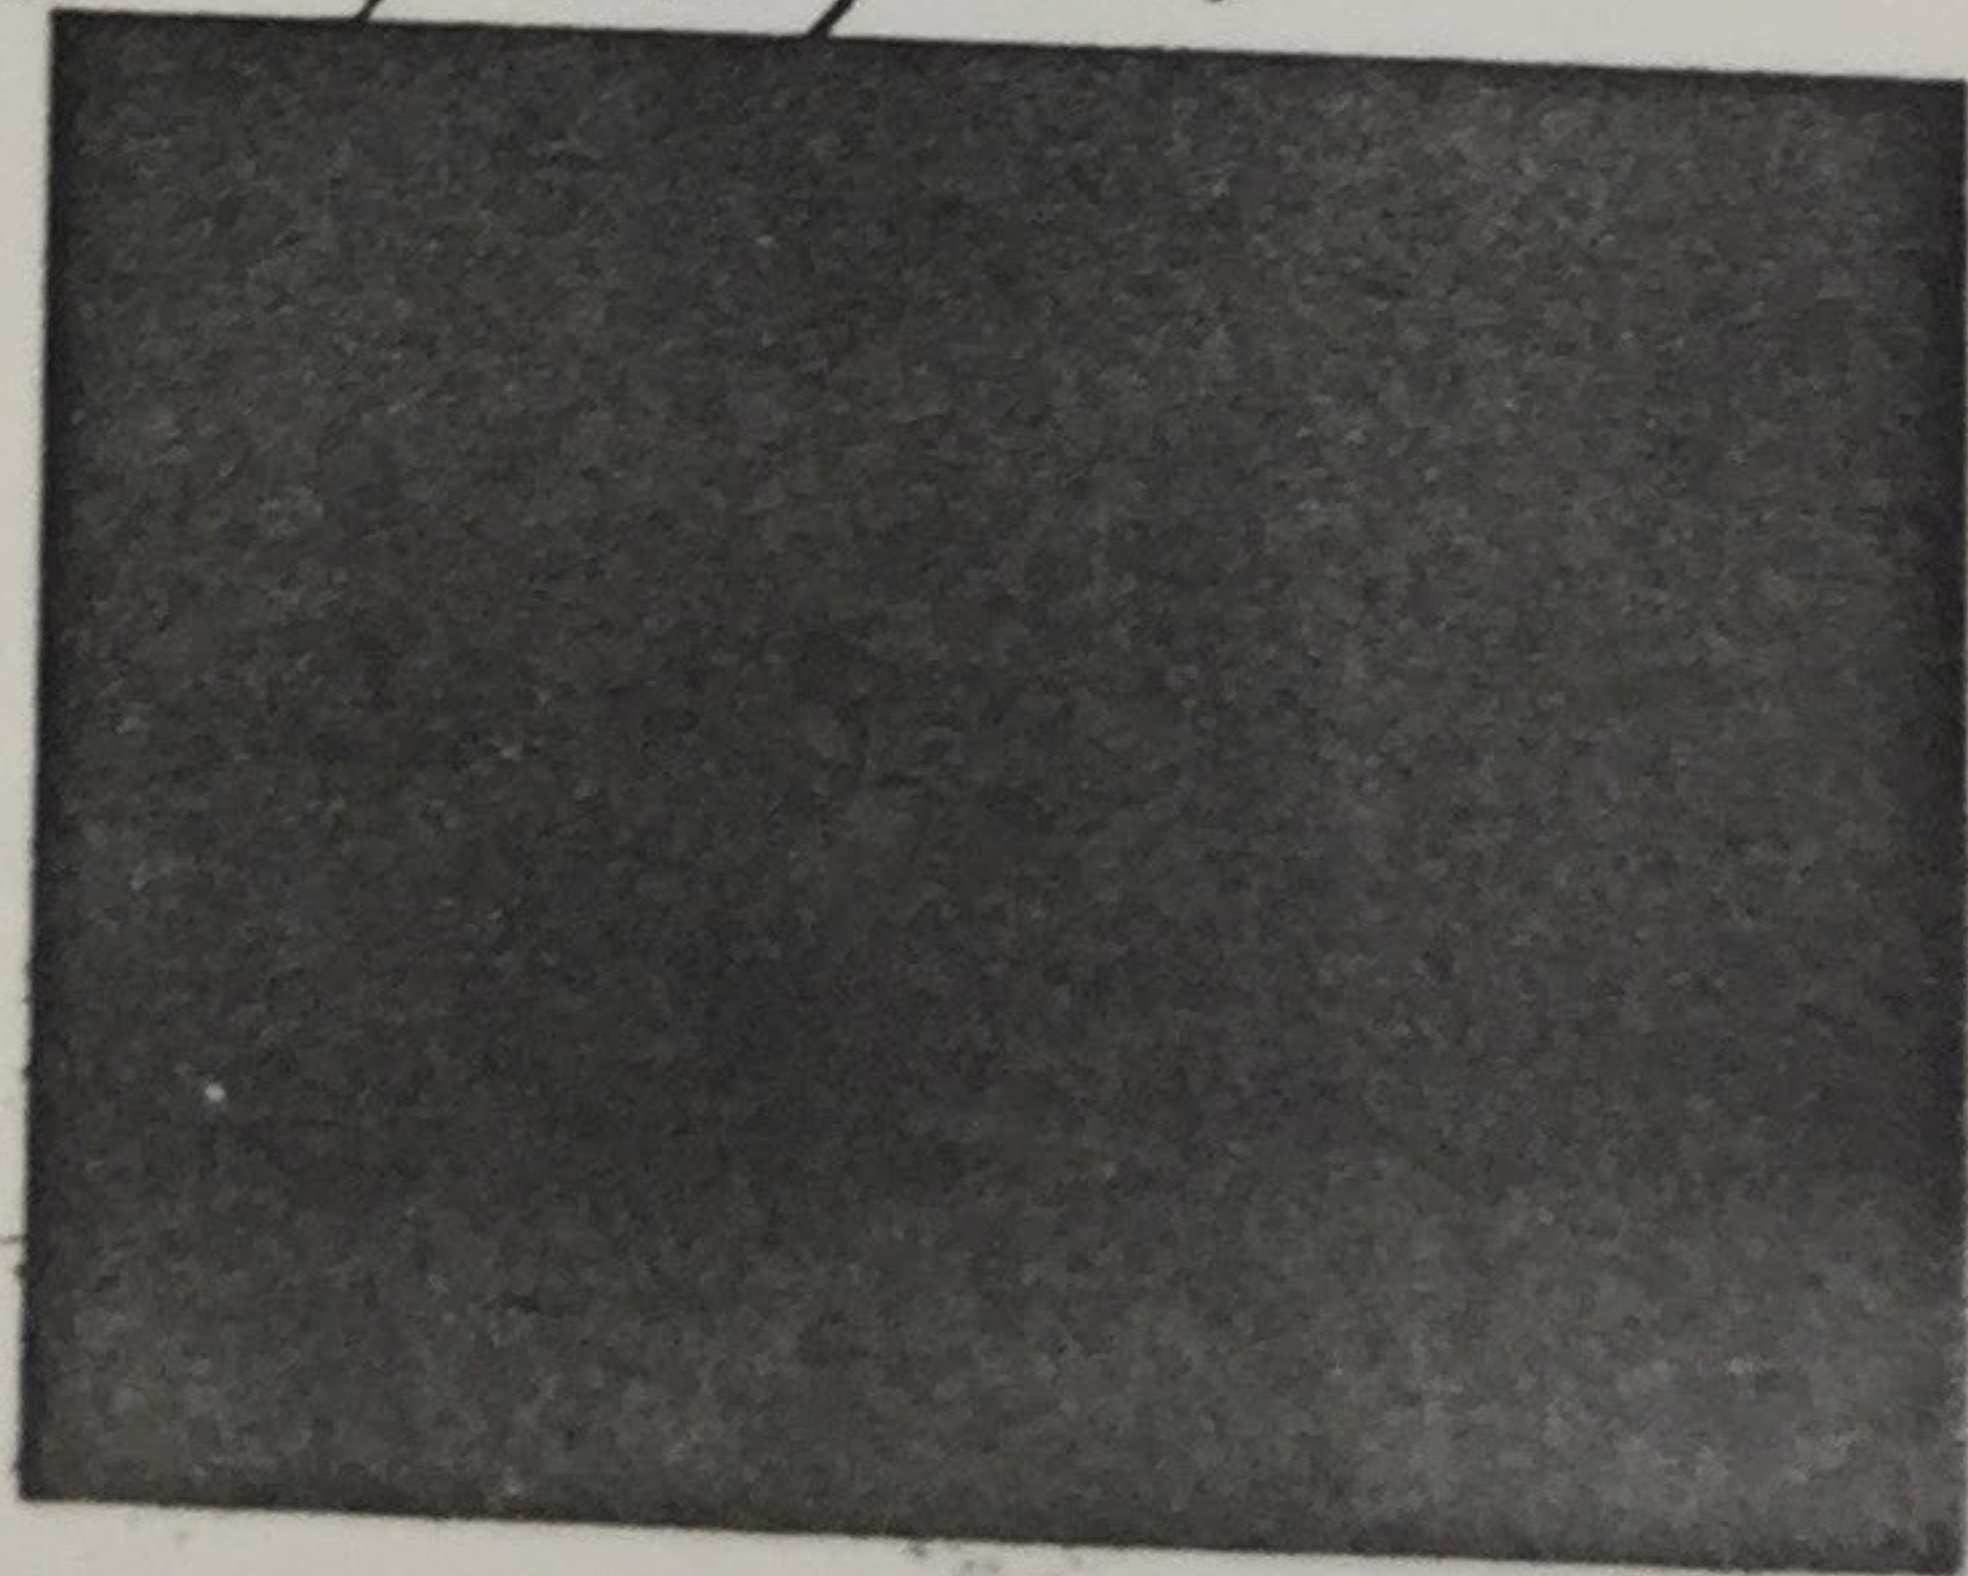

Hello! Mr Kaczynski,

I just couldn't resist writing to you to let you know that, daily, I think of you and that I care very much about you. In my heart, even if you are, actually, the so-called 'UNABOMBER', you are a "GENIUS" -- not for bombings, but for your deep concern about the harm modern technology is causing humans, animals, and our earth... you, certainly, are of 'superior' intelligence...

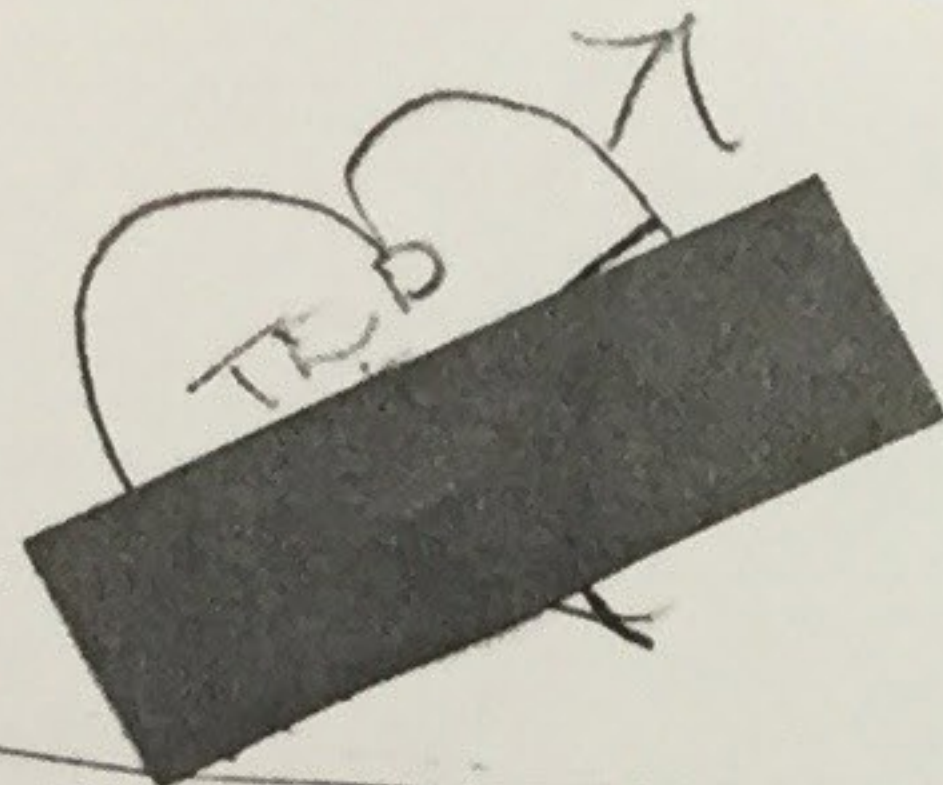

Proudly, I wear your handsome (1962 Harvard Yearbook) picture on my lapel or on a blouse, etc. The small picture was in a Newsweek magazine. I cut it out, laminated it and the small picture of the hooded Unabomber, then enclosed them in a pin-back plastic case. You're my Fascinator and you, certainly, will be, favorably mentioned in my book, FDA RAPED MY SCIENTIFIC BRAIN, revealing "EXTERNAL" harm toxic agri-chemical contaminated food has done to humans and produce. Much has been done to 'silence' me! My U.S. Patent and Trade-mark Office Disclosure Document is in a SAFE DEPOSIT BOX. I've been told to stay off talk shows!!!

There's so much more, Mr. Kaczynski. Soon, I plan to send query letters to publishers.

Forever in my Prayers,

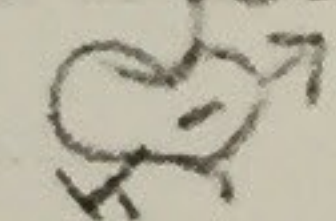

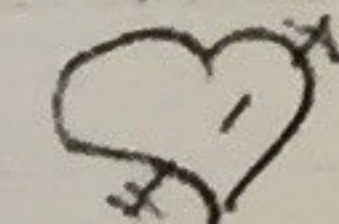

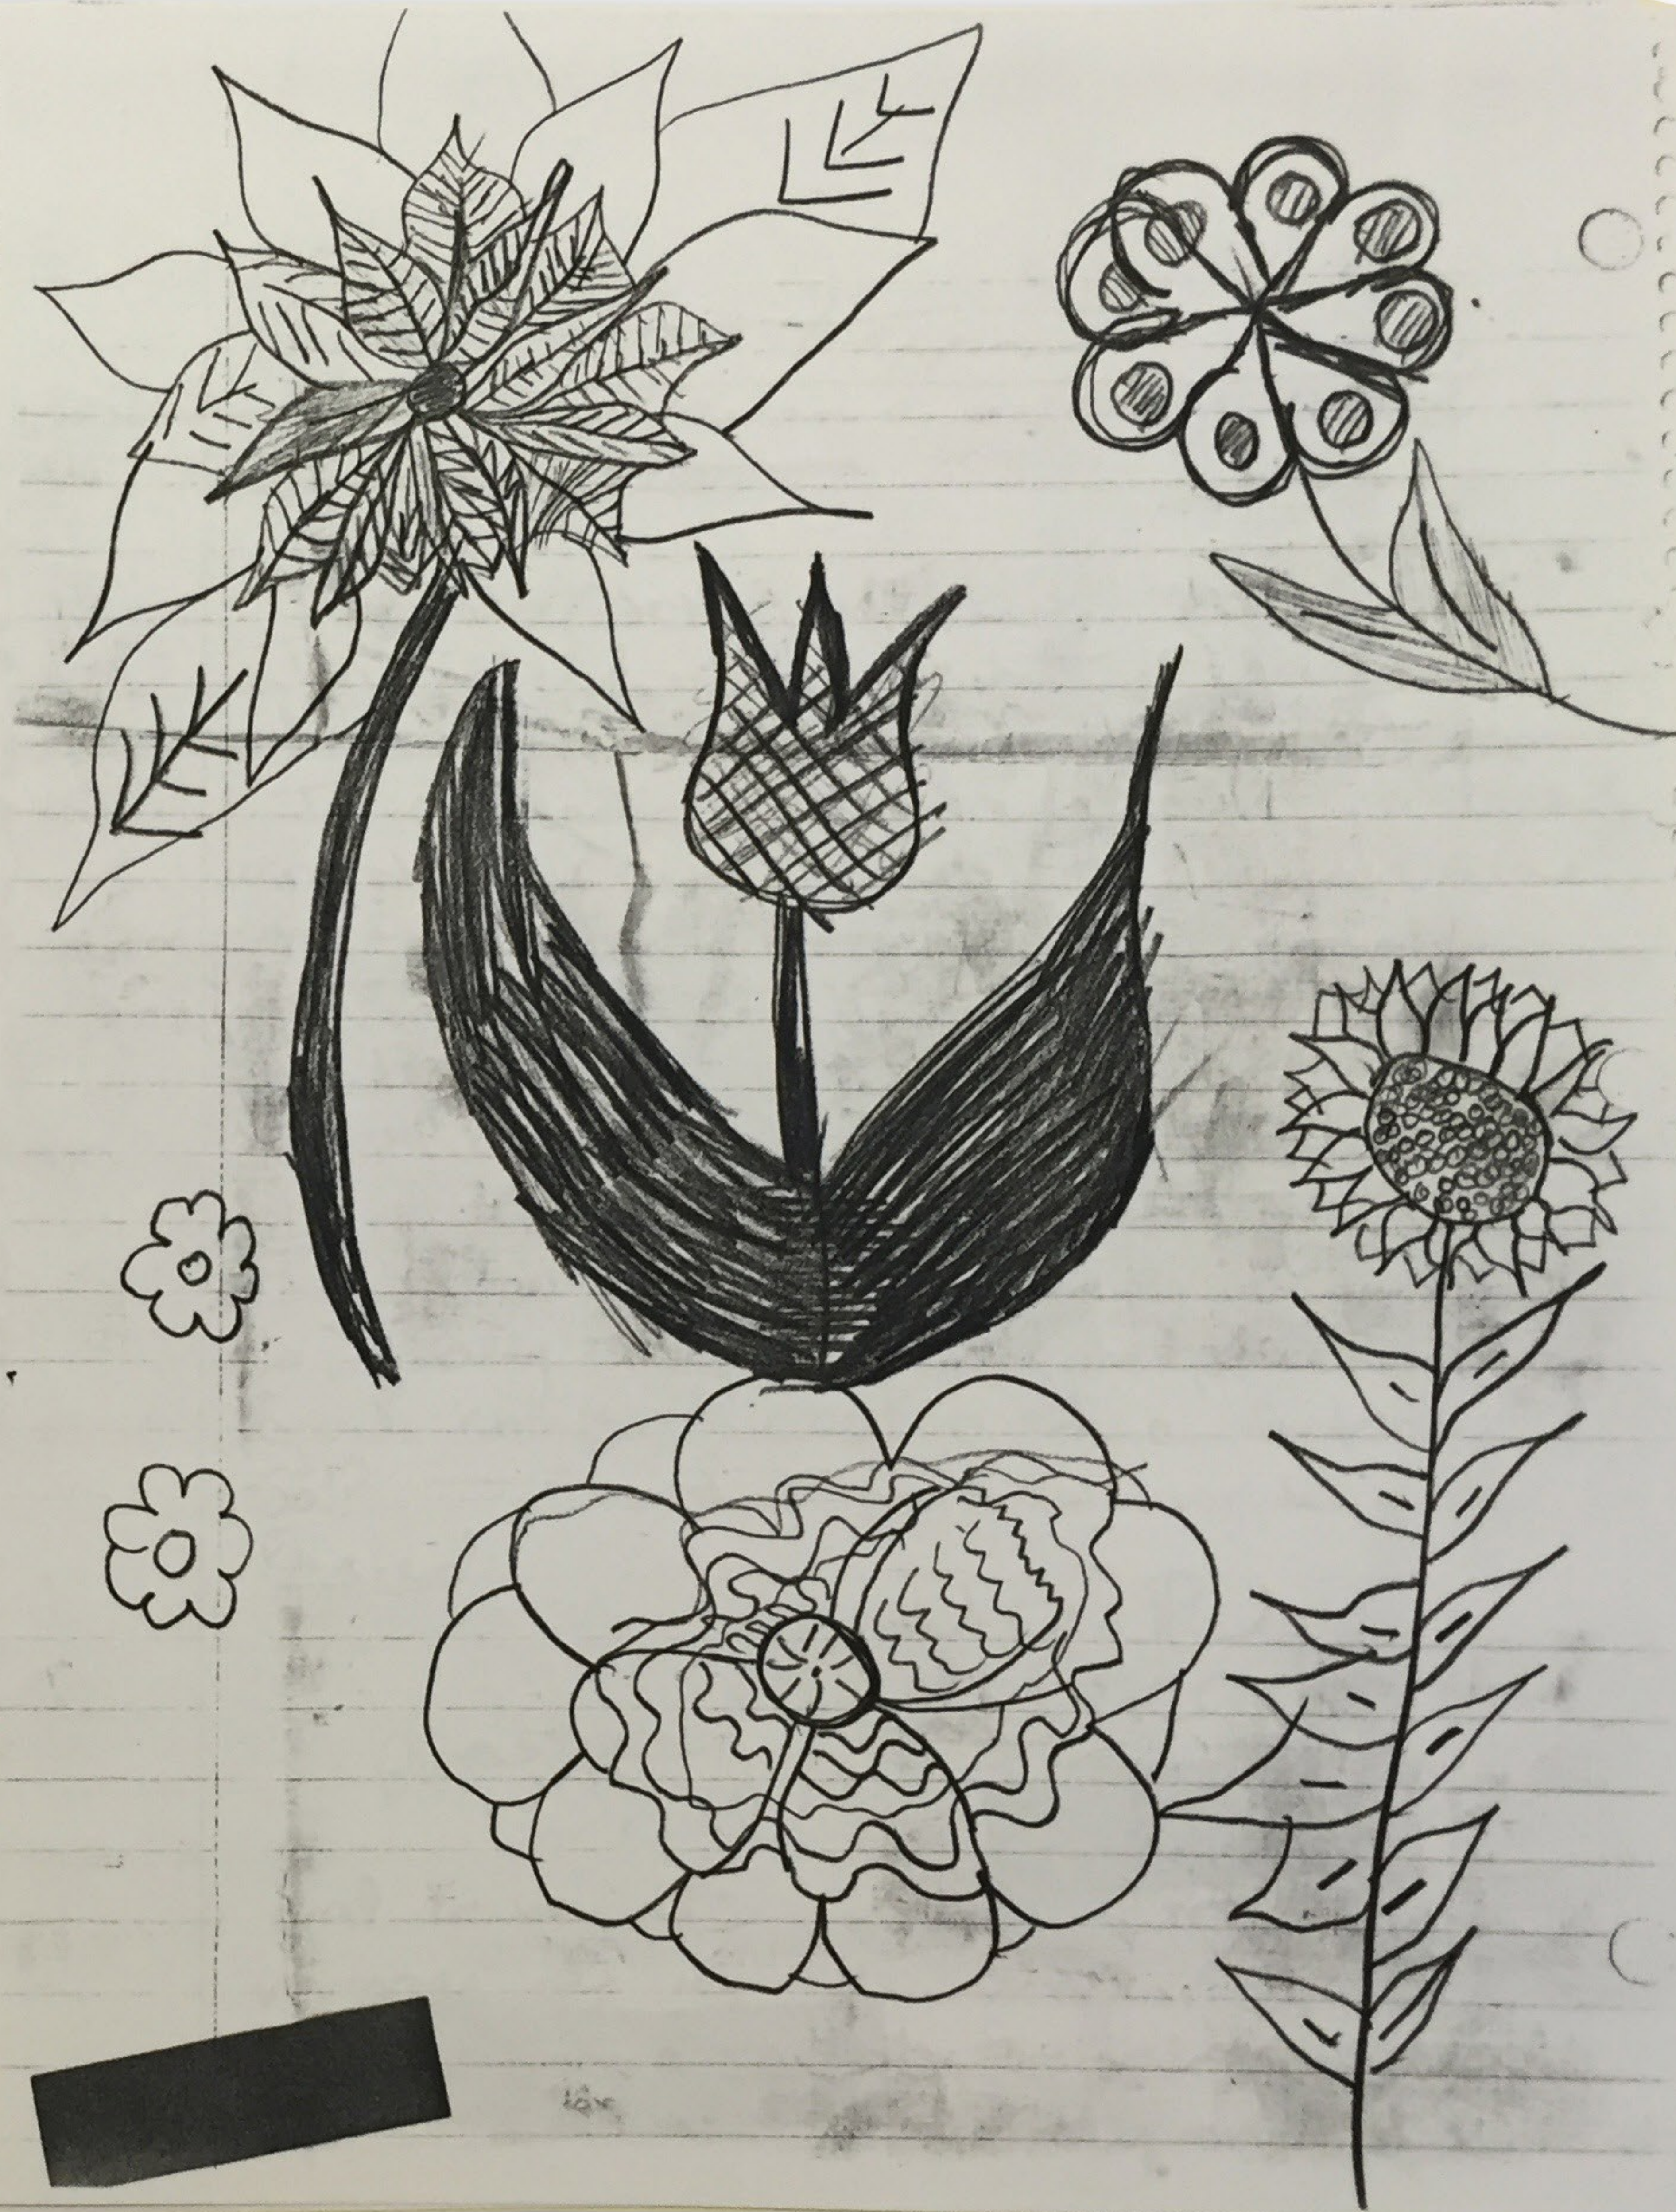

I LOVE YOU

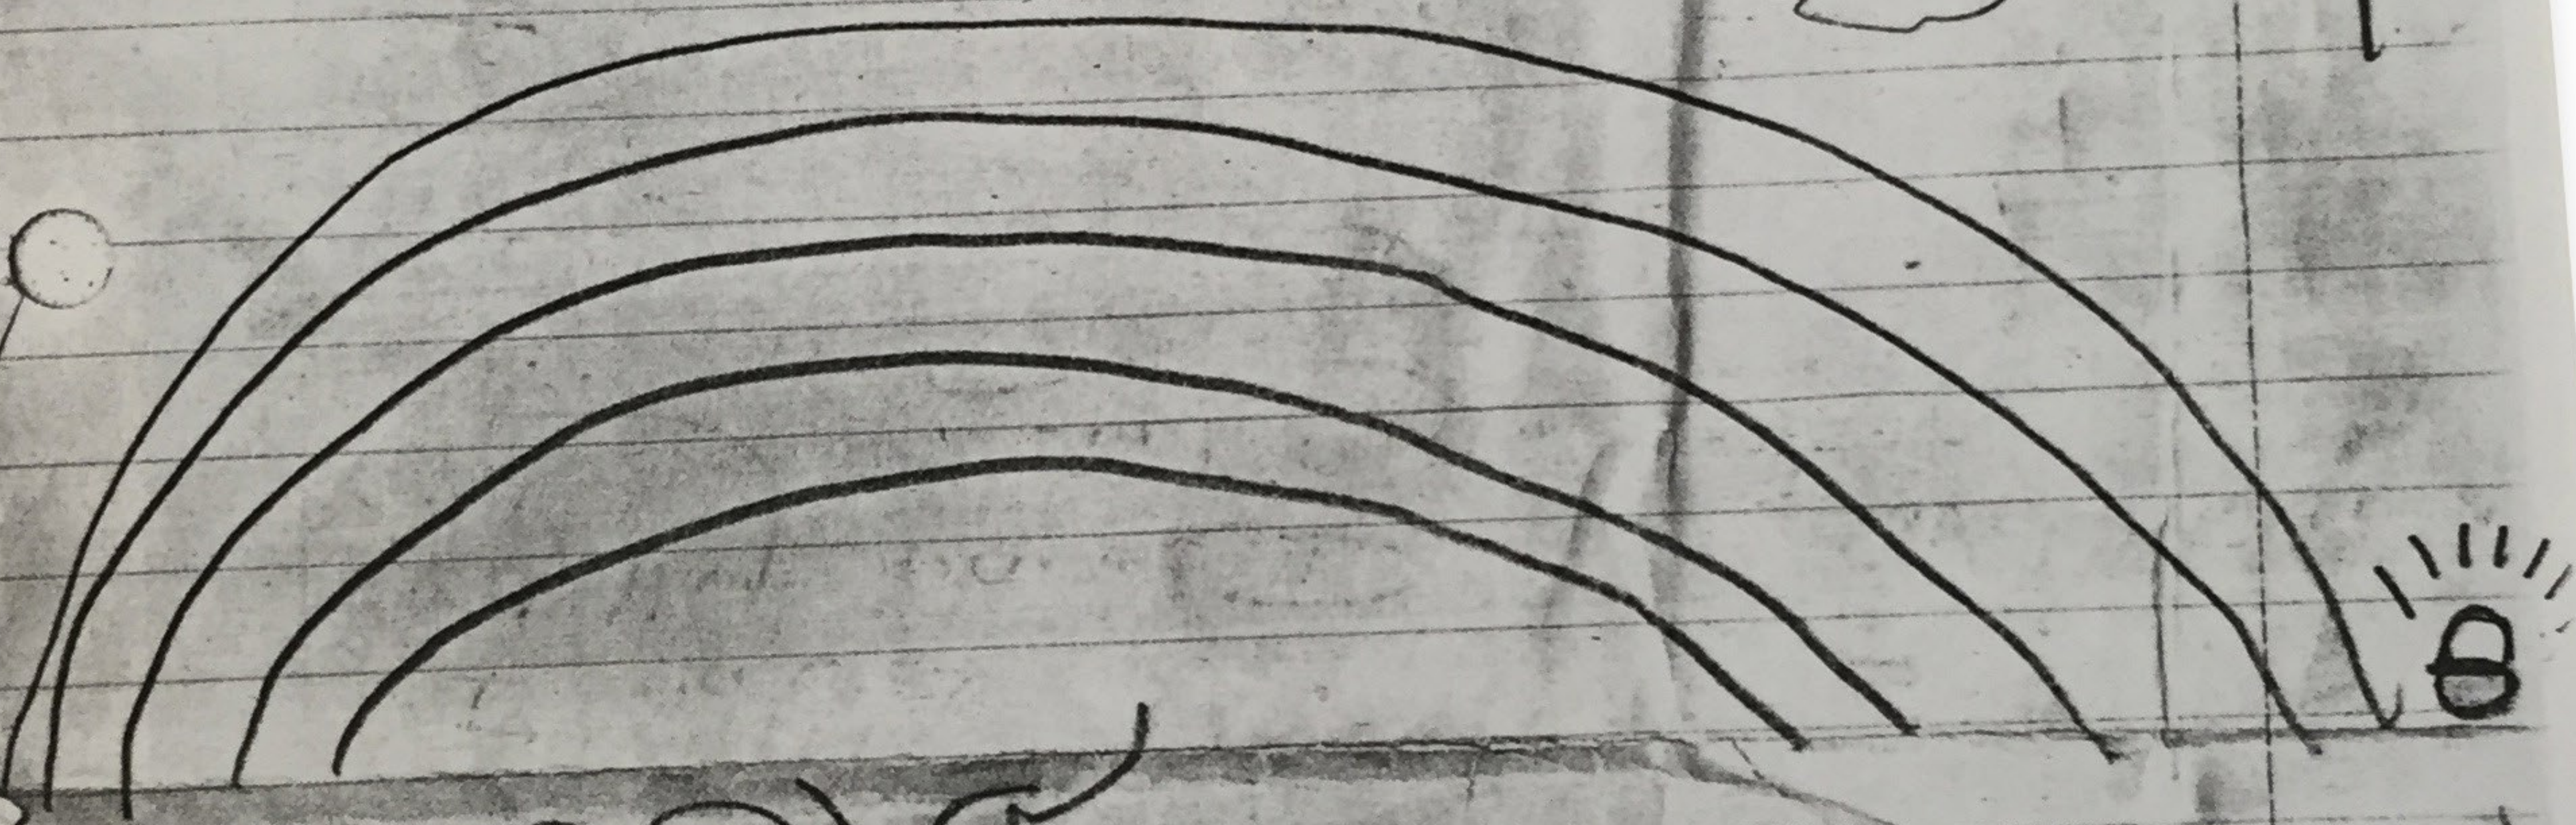

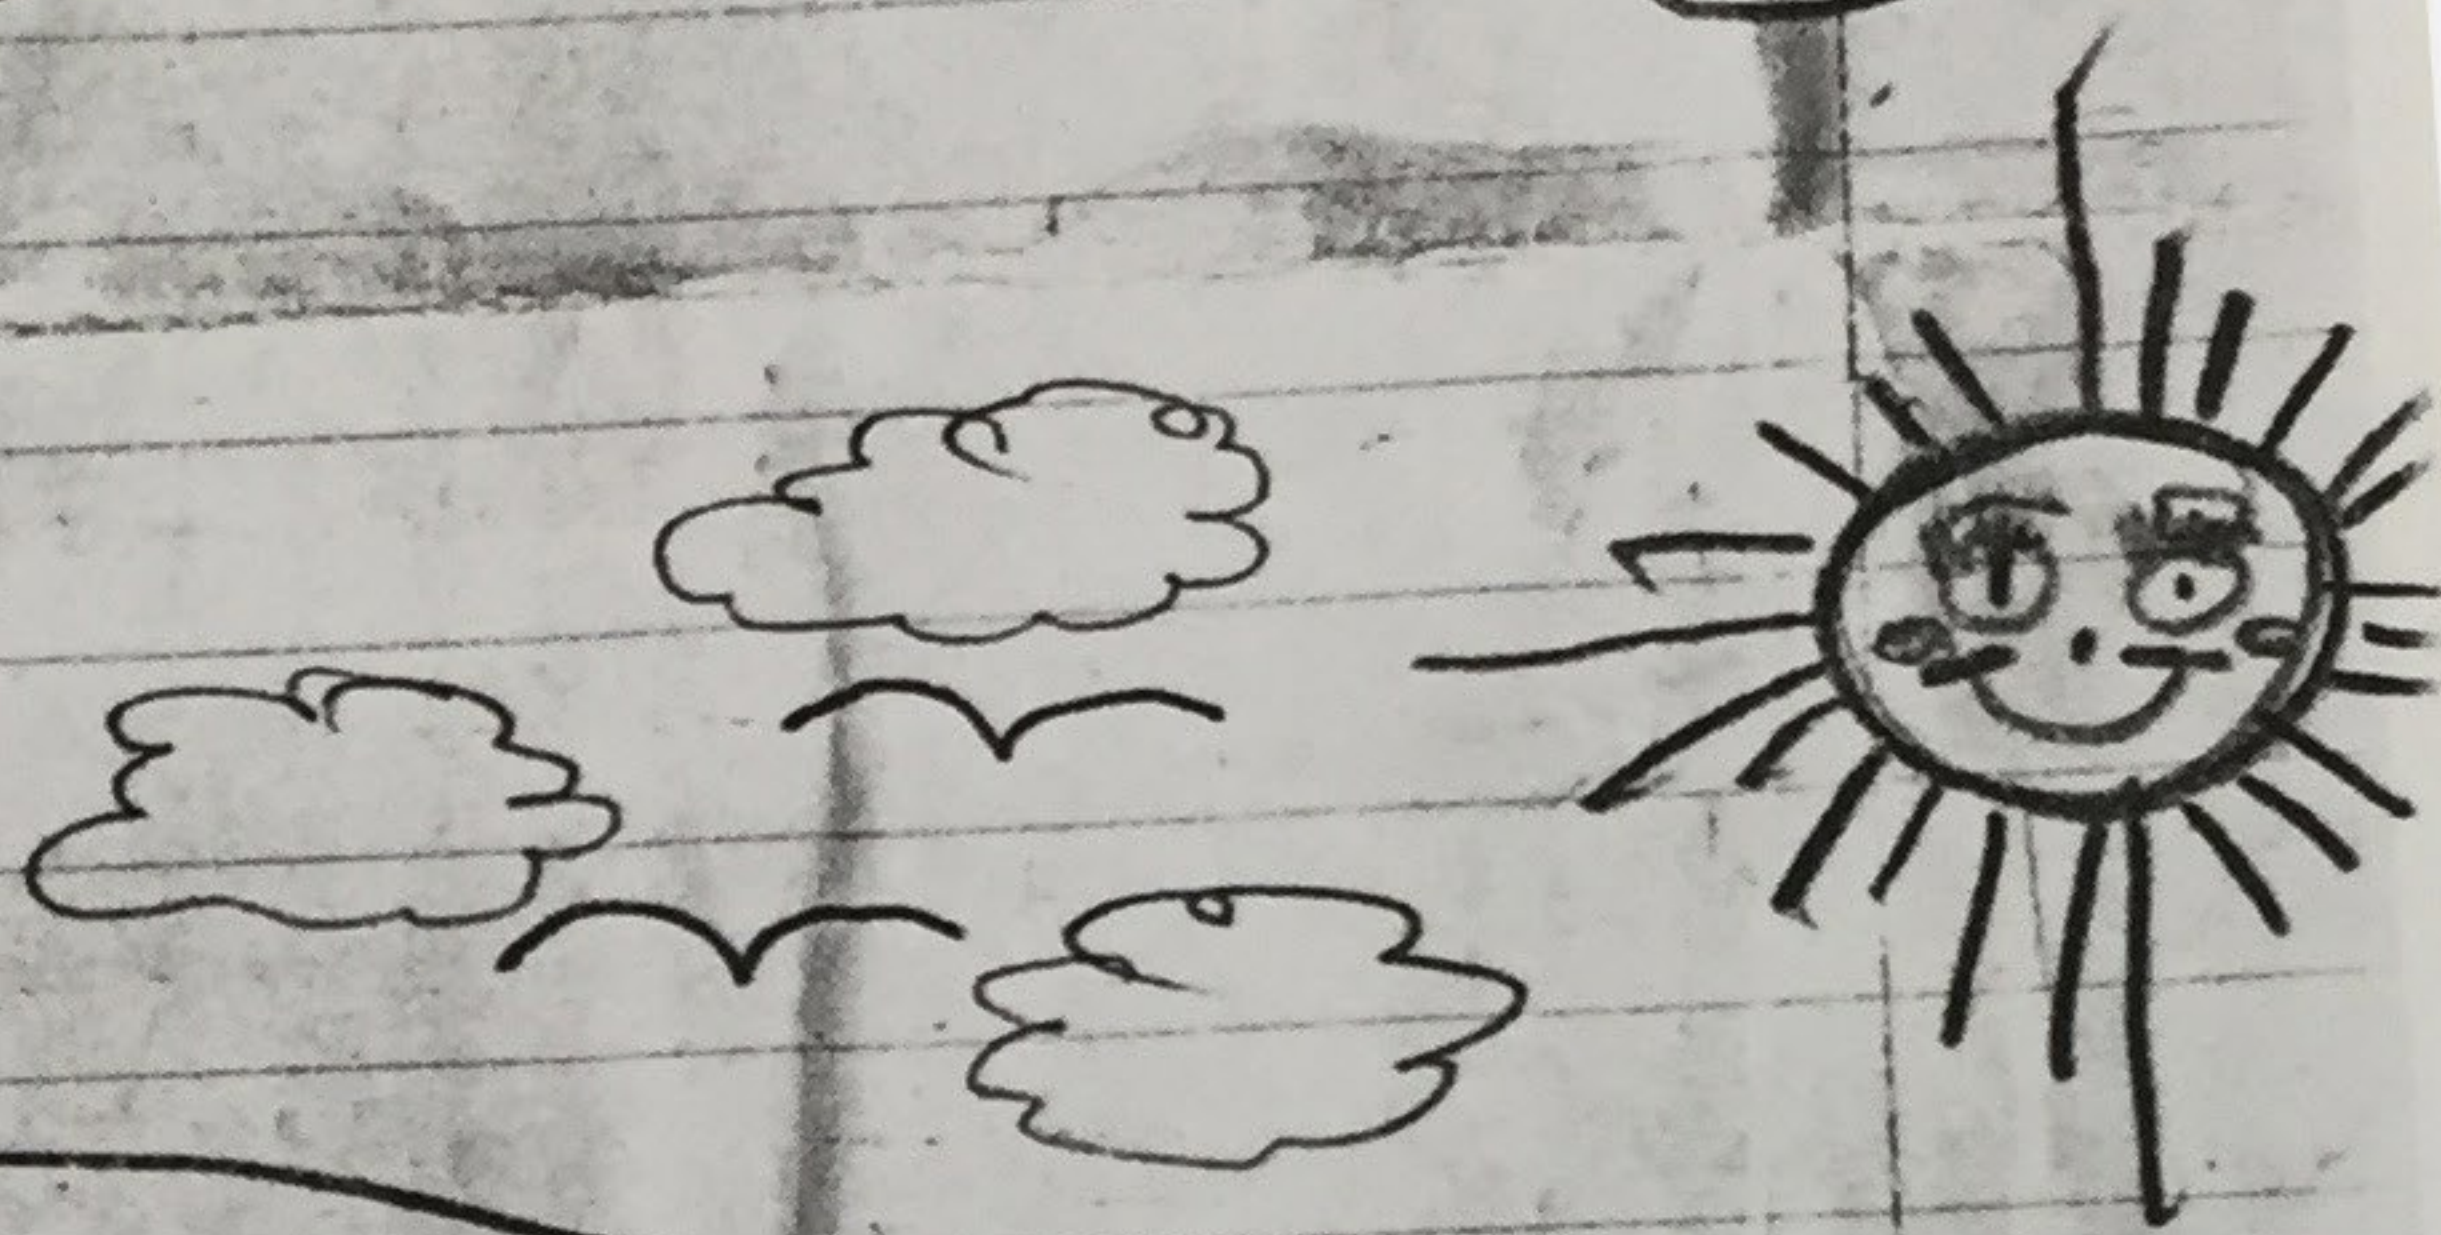

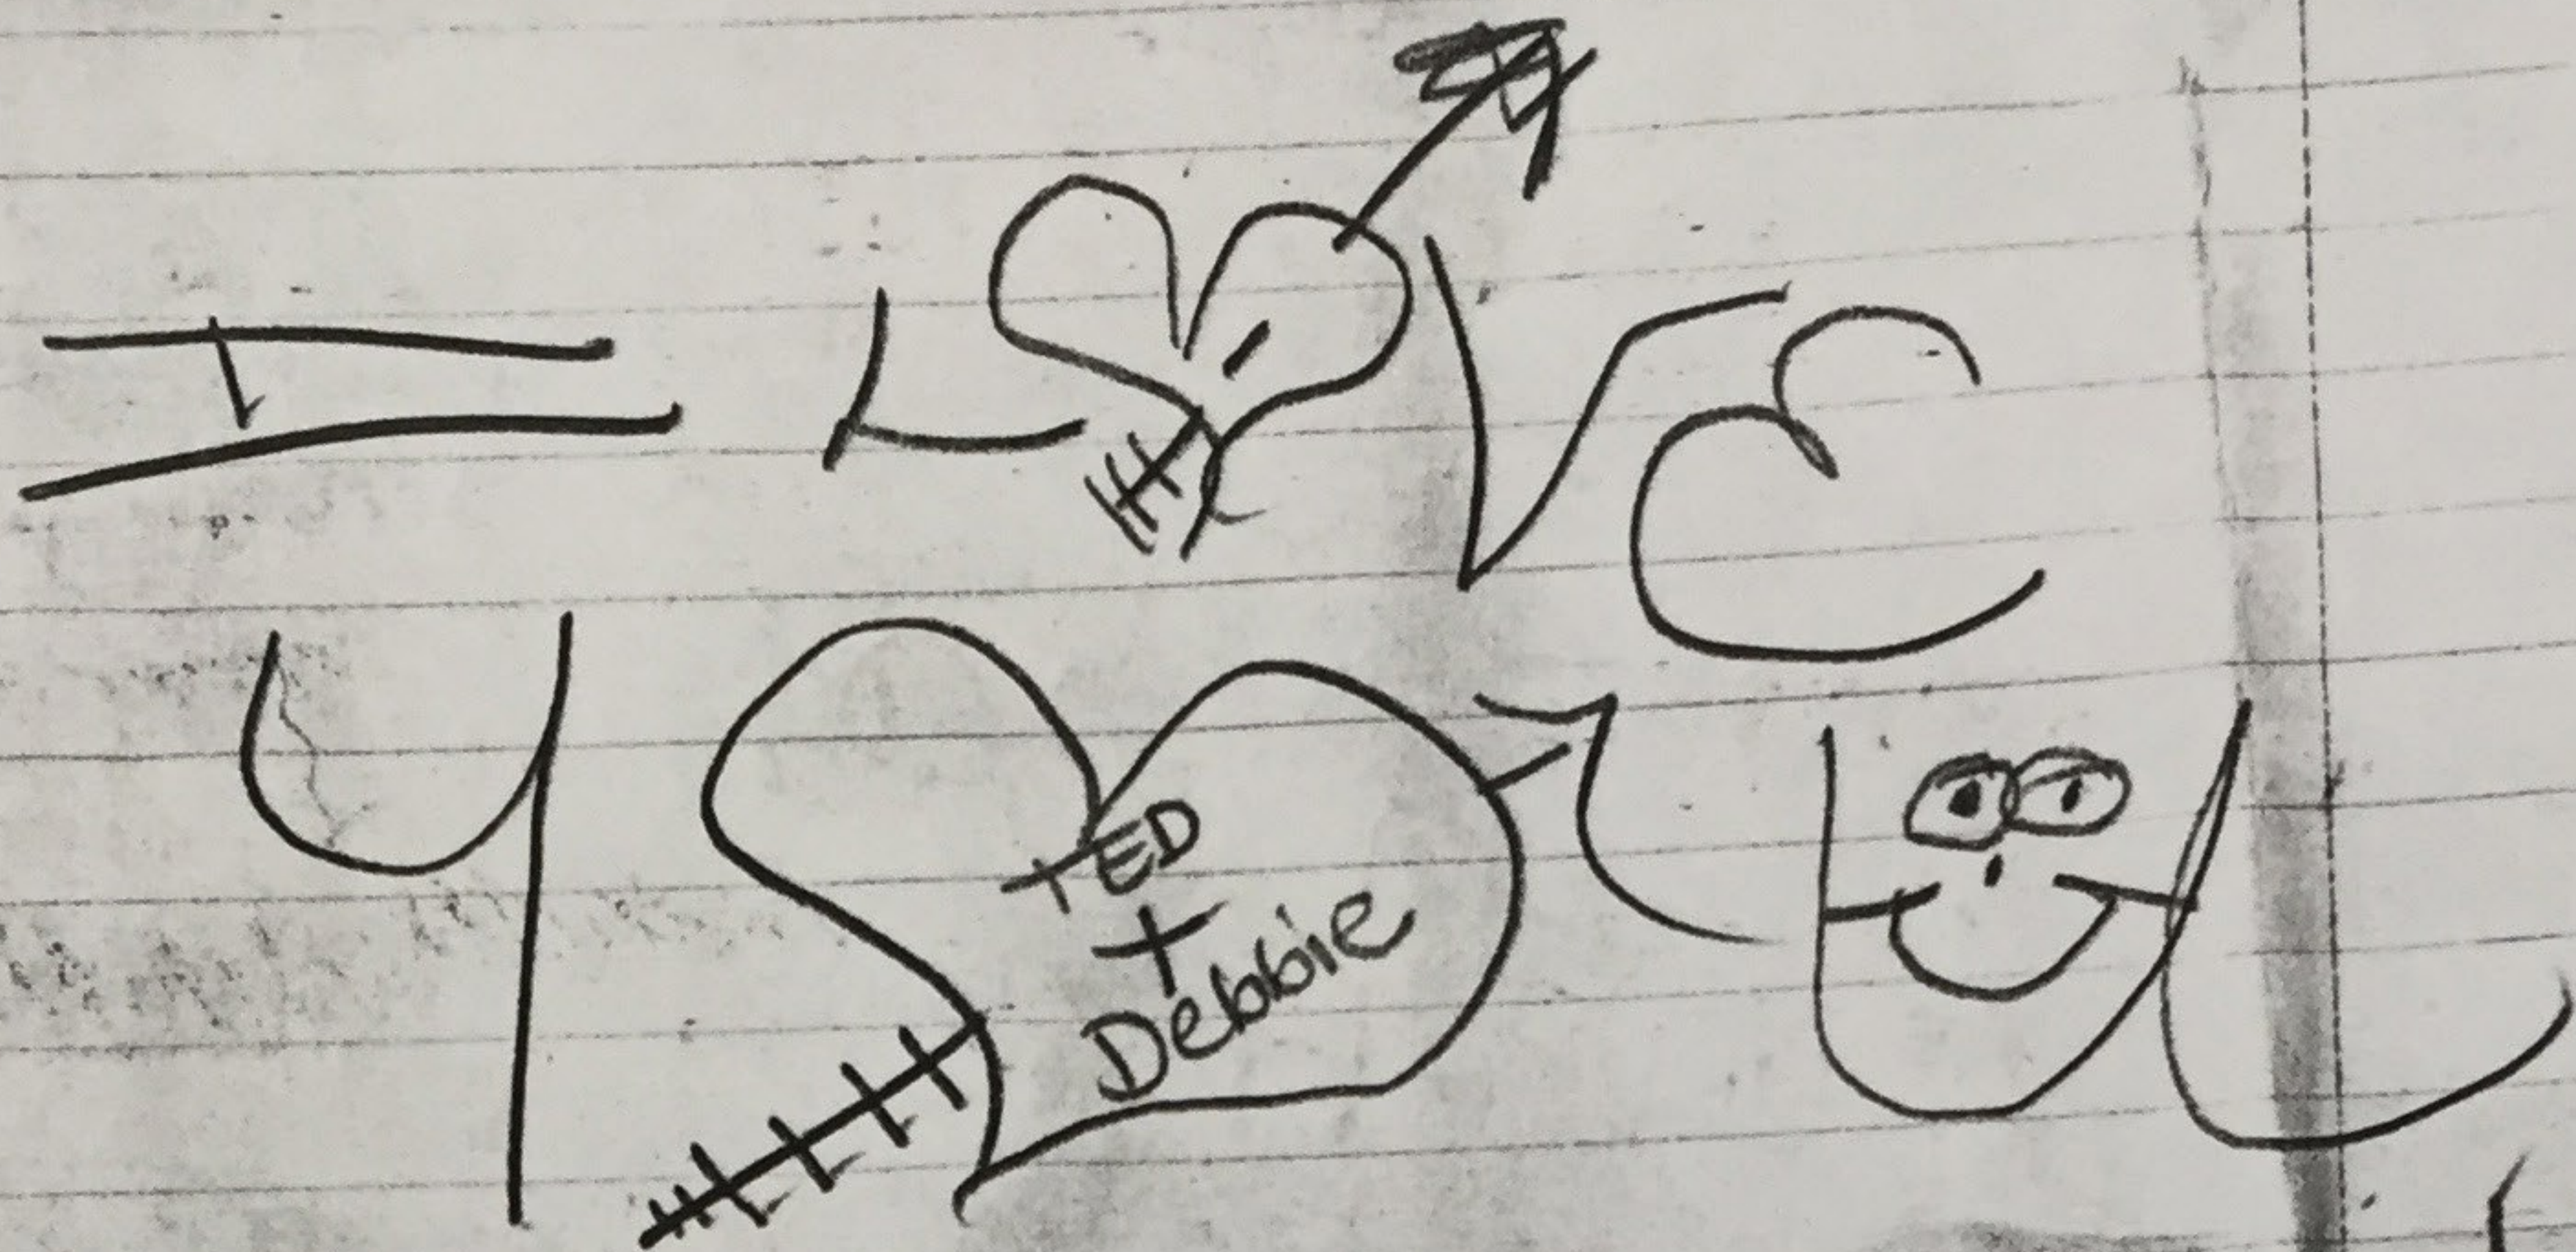

~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~

~~XXXXXX~~
~~XXXXXX~~

Ted Kaczynski, Uni Bomber ^{is that a} just picking, my name is ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~ ^{let HA, HA!} ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~ Yes Mamma, and No Mamma to you, just picking HA, HA!
and every one Else too - also whatever I saw you on T.V., and I was scared, but I got to thinking and I would like to meet you.
I think you are so cute with your ~~XXXX~~ = disguise on. and I pretend every night that we're together and I snuggle my face next to yours with love and a kiss.  I was adopted and I doubt it, but possibly may be related to you or I wish  I LOVE YOU I wish I could afford to visit you how long does it take to get housing. IF I were your my ally would be I have done nothing.

LOVE AND K[♥]ISSES

please I'm begging

you please
No + Kill!
TED KACZYNSKI!
I LOVE Him!
and if you do!

LOVE AND Kisses

please
I'm begging
you please
No + Kill!!!
TED Kaczynski!
I LOVE Him!
and if you do!

I love you —

check for $50⁰⁰

I love you !

February 10, 1998

Dear Ted,
You might think that the purpose of these notes has changed since I began writing. That is true a little because I needed to speak. But there are other needs hidden here too, like the need to give love. At this point, if I knew all of the secrets, there might not be any need for notes. Whether this would change my intentions is unlikely, because I know enough now to make an informed choice. I will not retreat.

You are the reason why I continue to follow this difficult course. It is hard to know how this will work out, but I hope we will finally be together. If this happens, I will then be able to show my love for you.

Love,

February 5, 1999

Dear [REDACTED],

Please address all future mail to me in care of

Julie Herrada
711 Hatcher Library
University of Michigan
Ann Arbor MI 48109-1205.

Thanks,

Ted

Note to Julie Herrada:

Above is a copy of a note that I'm sending to [REDACTED]. I don't know whether it will work, but it's worth a try, anyway.

If [REDACTED] does start sending the letters to you, needless to say I do not want them to be forwarded to me. You can keep them, or throw them out, or do whatever you like with them.

- Ted

TED KACZYNSKI To P

August 2, 1998

Labadie Class II

Dear Ms.

: 0000.0

During the last few weeks I've received $130⁰⁰ from you. I would like to express my thanks for your great generosity. However, I also want to tell you that I am not at the present suffering any inconvenience for lack of cash. Consequently, you should not send me money if it causes you any hardship.

Many thanks,

Ted Kaczynski
Ted Kaczynski

Labadie Class II

Dear Ted Kaczynski,

This is a letter of support – a little something to let you know that not all the young girls think you're a wacko! (I'm sure you get lots of fan mail, but none as charming as this, nor from someone so sincere.) I am just your average ding-a-ling, a 23-year-old secretary who likes to rock'n'roll and read romance novels when not working here at IBM in San Jose (where I am right now).

But I guess I'm not exactly your average ding-a-ling, because I'm a big fan of your manifesto. Some jerk over at Jolly Roger Press must be making a shitload off of it! Anyhow, I have been an admirer of yours for some time now, going so far as to wear your picture in my heart-shaped locket opposite of Elvis Presley (I also have your high school yearbook photo on my bulletin board at work; so far no one has recognized you) but until recently my appreciation had been fueled by misguided feelings of rebelliousness. Now that I'm actually reading your manifesto, though, I find myself a fan in many respects.

First, I am wowed (and cowed) by your brains. It has taken me a long time to work up the courage to write to you, because I know you'll think I'm a dumbass. I'm not very good at, nor interested in, math or any of the sciences. I am, alack, an arty type, and I was always encouraged to exploit my artiness... resulting in me kow-towing to these IBM assholes even after having completed my stupid, useless degree in art. I know I should try harder to find a job I like – but I don't, or can't, like anything. I should have tried harder and gone to a better college, because I had really good scores on all the tests... but I have long been stricken with chronic apathy, and thus settled for the local peanut academy (San Jose State). Still, regardless of my exceedingly lackluster education, I've read a lot of books on my own and was able to really appreciate how neatly presented your thoughts and arguments are. I also appreciate your wit. It's great!

I'm also super impressed by the fact that you lived alone for however many years. It seems like most people can't stand to be alone. Not me, though. Ever since my sister (who is 21) got a boyfriend, I've been a loner. But that's okay – I have my trampoline, my rollerskates, my guitar, my dog... who needs human companionship? Anyway, I think it's neat how you were so self-sufficient. Maybe I should try it. My mom owns some land up in Mendocino county, but it's not that isolated... so even if I did go up there it wouldn't be long before some retard hippie would come knocking to borrow a cup of sugar!!

I should add that I agree with your writing; life today is empty and absolutely meaningless. Still, I don't share your attitude toward this meaninglessness – I figure it is the way humanity was meant to go, the way it must go, and it could not go any other way. It is a very beautiful tragedy, and we are doomed, one and all. Meanwhile, I am here... so I try to enjoy it. I love every dumb jock and squealing cheerleader; every fat Oklahoma City woman and her faith in "angels;" every idiot bongo-banging beatnik; every perverted businessman who looks me up and down (believe it or not, I am really pretty and I know how to exploit it, sort of)... in my way, I love everyone. Life is a big fuckin' tapestry of assholes, and I am just a dingleberry on the one in the middle. As long as I remember that, I'll be okay... at least for another week.

That brings me to the only other thing I'll mention here that I like about you (the main thing): you seem to really care about what you write. Where I'm content to sit and watch the world glut itself, you have actually sounded the call for a revolution to save humankind from its crapulence. Moreover, you seem to have a love for nature that I just haven't been able to muster up, and a determination that I fear I never will.

That's what I love about you, Ted Kaczynski. You care more than anyone else I know.

Very, very respectfully yours,

2-22-98

Dear Mr. Denvir,

Earlier this month I sent you a letter, in which I also enclosed a card for Mr. Theodore Kaczynski for Valentine's Day. In any event, I hope the card found Mr. Kaczynski and was received well.

My purpose for writing to you at this point is for reasons that I have considered delicately as well as at length. I have thought carefully in regards to Mr. Kaczynski's predicament as a convicted man who at present (at least to my current knowledge) is single, and has never been married. To consider this fact at least for myself, is not only disturbing, but lends me to believe that perhaps it stands to be a painful fact in Mr. Kaczynski's life as well.

In essence, I am proposing marriage, and that if it is at all legally feasible in terms of Mr. Kaczynski's particular case, I will consent to becoming his legal wife.

For your own information in regards to who I am, I am twenty-eight years old (female), and am currently enrolled as a student at the Wichita State University as a sociology major--which in and of itself could lend some reason as to why I am interested in Mr. Kaczynski's case. In addition, I have read as well as examined his published dissertation unfairly dubbed: The Unabomber's Manifesto. I found his thesis extremely insightful, relevant, and well argued in terms of it being applicable to society and various social facts found therein.

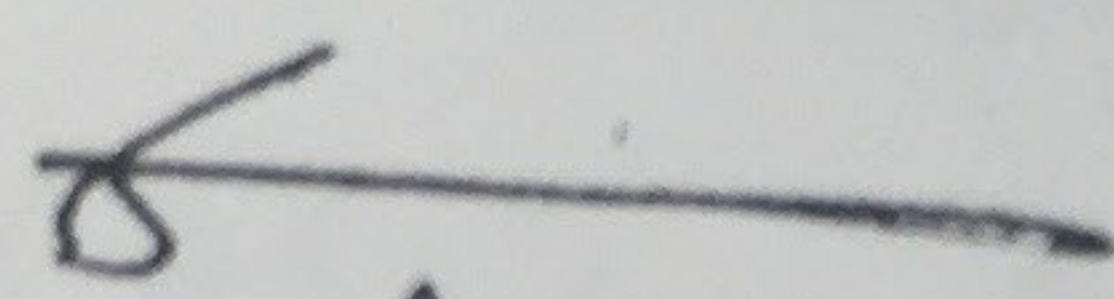

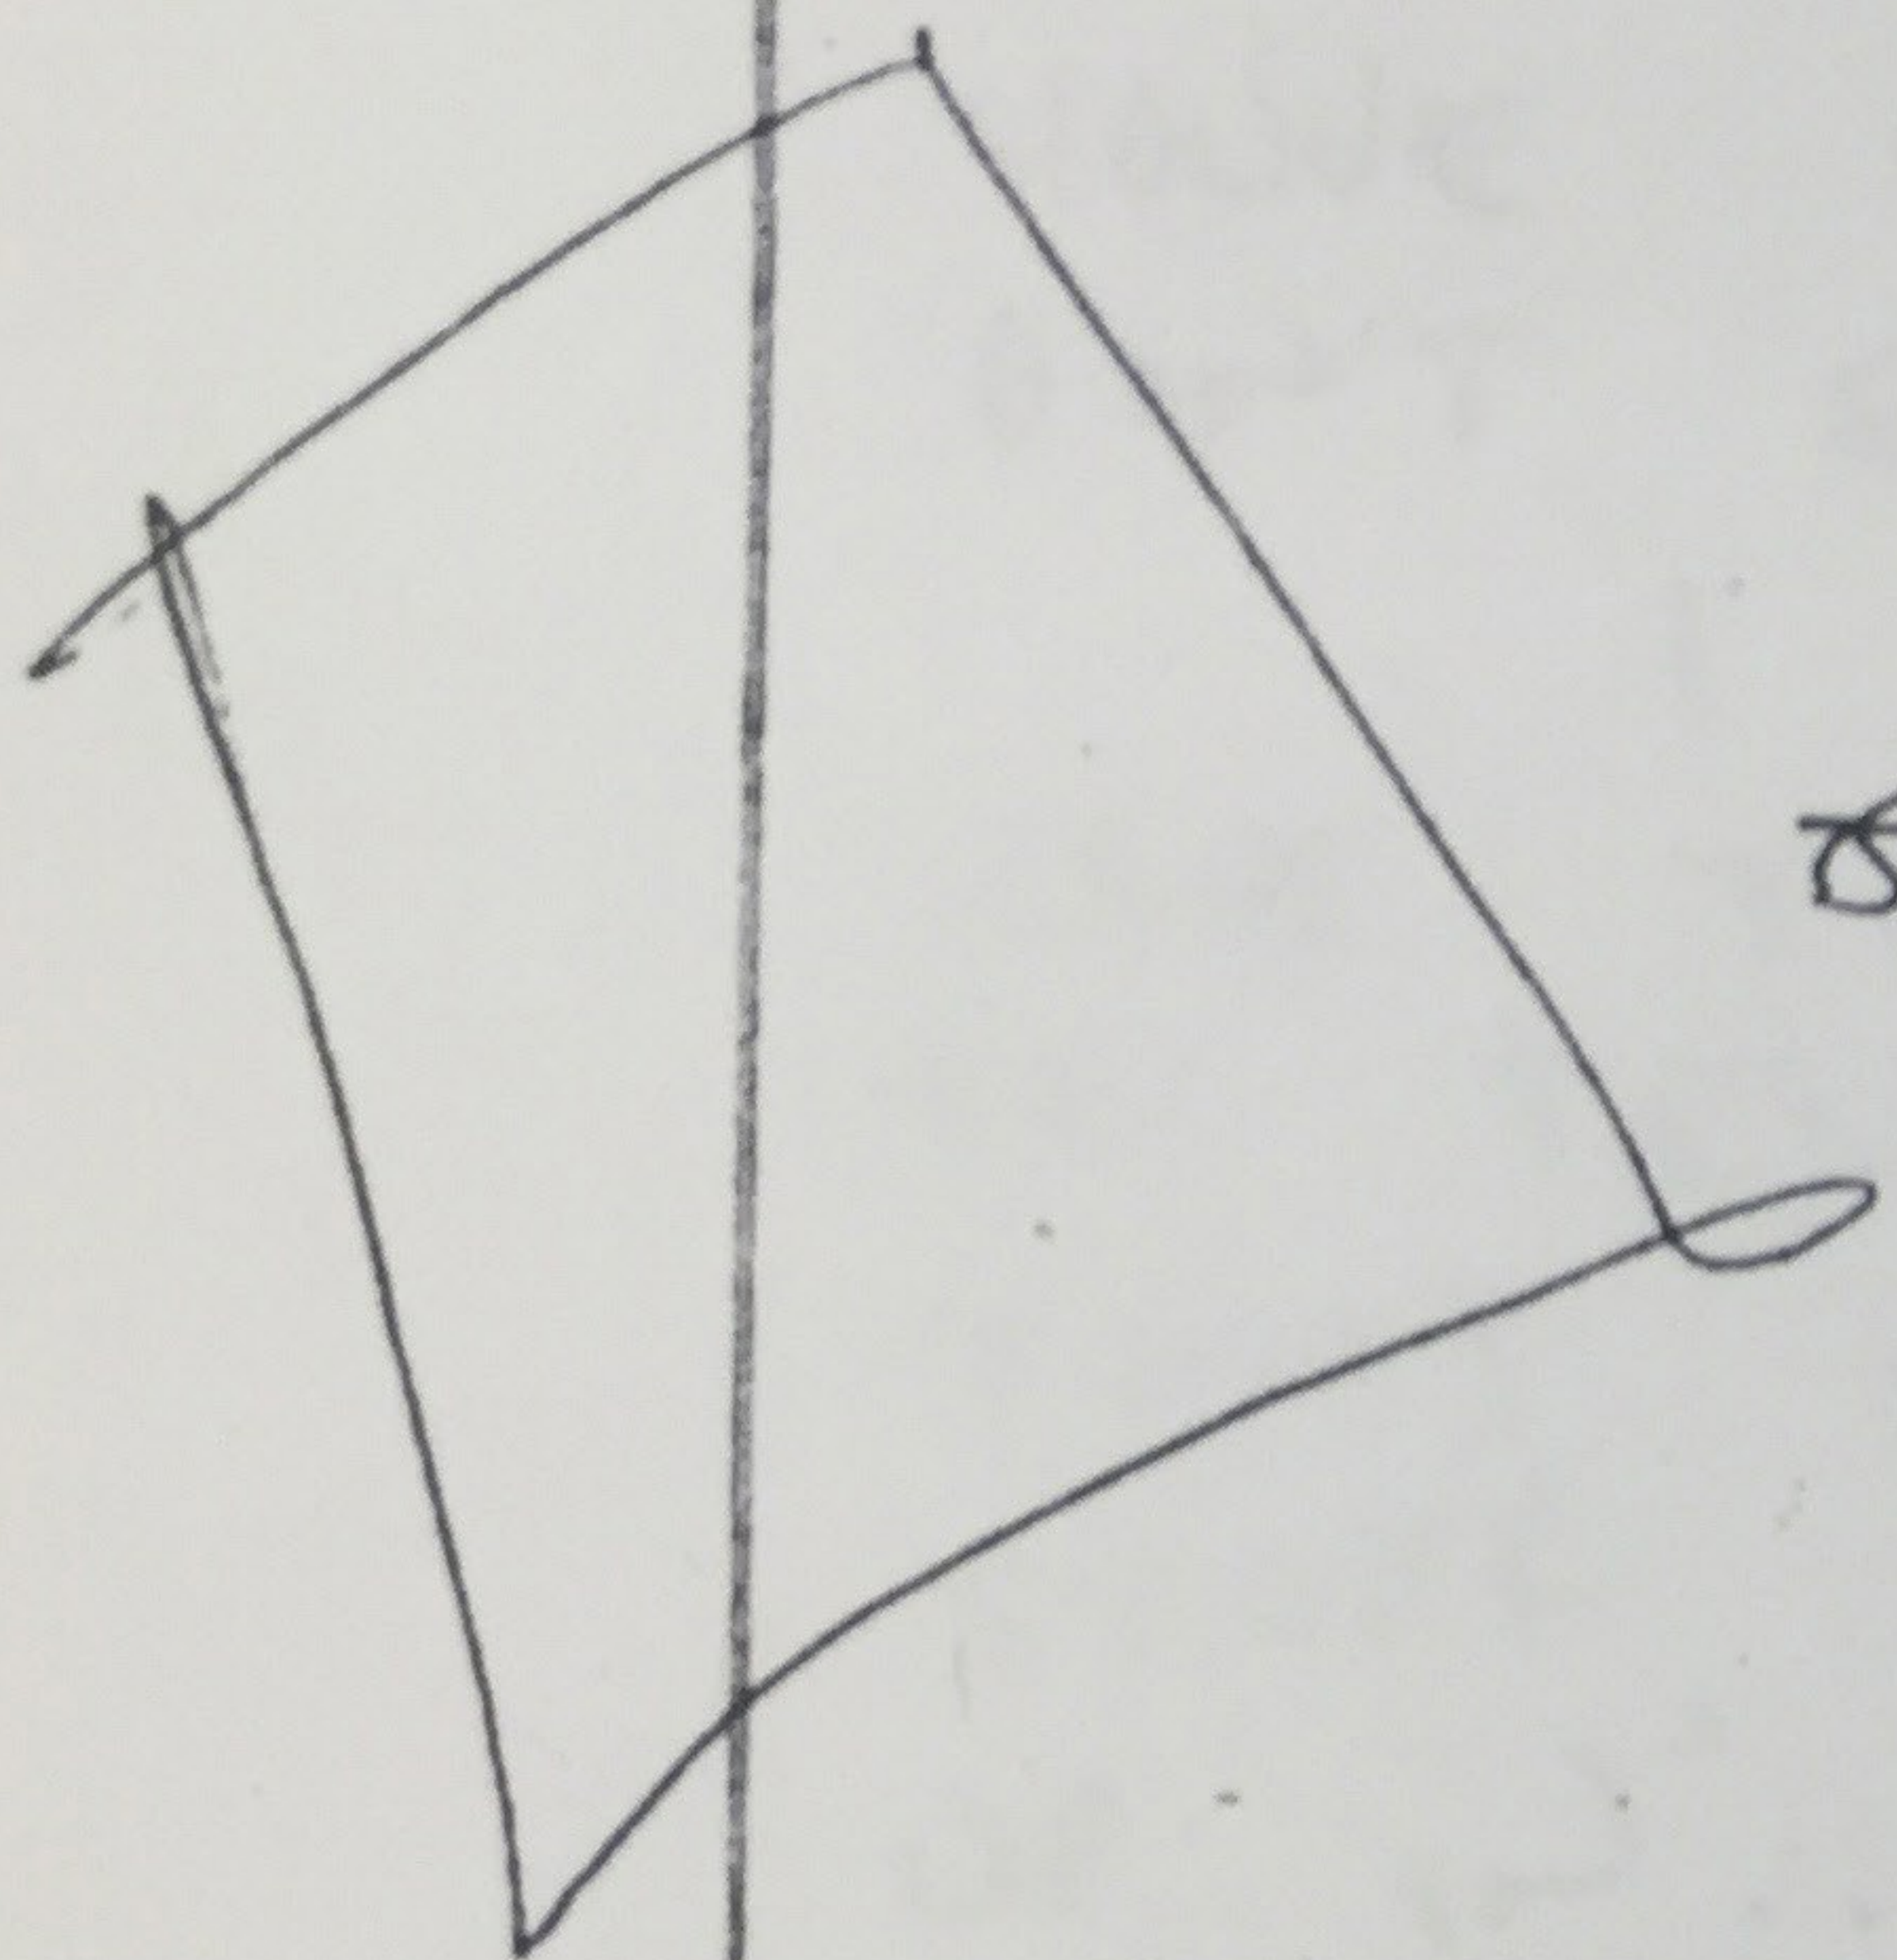

Aside from the above mentioned, I am merely an individual who takes note of the fact, and quite seriously, that Mr. Kaczynski may very well live the rest of his life without ever having come to know marriage, or love from someone of the opposite sex. Marriage in and of itself may be irrelevant, but it cannot be denied that marriage does comprise symbolism: love, respect, sincerity, and dedication--provided love is present. I feel that this inherent symbolism in respect to marriage might prove beneficial to Mr. Kaczynski.

If Mr. Kaczynski is willing to assent to my offer, my offer stands resolute: I will be his wife, on the grounds that it is legally permissible and he is accepting of my offer.

In any event, will you please acknowledge my proposal as a legitimate one as well as one desirous of a response.

Sincerely yours, ~

LONGER TO KNOW YOUR ARMS,

P.S.

HERE'S A KISS; CAN'T SEE IT CAN YOU? BUT IT'S THERE. ☺

January 31, 2001

Dear Ted,

My name is Lynn, and I have written to you before but you never wrote me back. I go to the mailbox daily holding my breath and waiting for your response and walk away sad. I chose yourself to write to because I don't believe all the negative lies the media and government has spread on you. I have read a lot about you and you have been on my mind for some time now. I live alone and have a small family, with very few friends. I needed someone in my life to talk to and hoped that special someone could be you. This letter comes to you from the heart and if I can help you in anyway, please feel free to let me know. Well I must go for now. Take care and hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,

Dear Ted,

03/22

My name is I am 32 years old, single and do not have any children. I live alone and love to read and have read a lot about you. Ever since you have been on my mind. I am aware that every story has two sides. I was tired of reading the media's negative lies.
This is why I decided to write and could use an extra friend and someone to talk to and hoped that special someone could be you. Well I must go for now. Take care and hope to hear from you soon. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]

January 25, 2001

Theodore John Kaczynski
United States Penitentiary
Administrative Maximum
PO Box 8500
Florence, CO 81226

Dear John, [REDACTED]

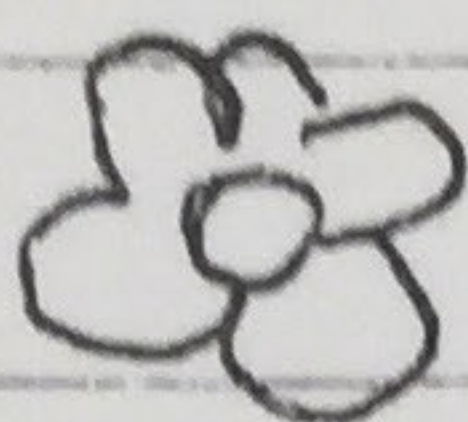

My name is [REDACTED] I'm 30 years old, have blonde hair, blue eyes, 5'4" tall, and weigh 132 lbs. I'm single and I have no children. I do have 2 German shepherds that are my best friends. I'm sure you receive a lot of letters and my will be just another one you read and throw away but I hope you will give me more of your time. You are a very interesting man and I want to learn more about you. I can't imagine how you must feel going from being free to now having someone watch your every move. Are you scared and lonely? I would be but I'm sure you are a much stronger person than me. My friends tell me I trust people way too much but I feel everyone should have the same opportunity and be treated equal. I do reach a point with some people that just don't do any thing for me just want from me. I don't have a boyfriend but I live with a friend. We have been friends for along time and he is letting me stay at his house but I'm looking somewhere else to move.

Enough about that boring stuff- I want someone that doesn't know me and I don't know, who I can talk to and be honest with. Someone that want judge me and I want judge back. This is why I have written you. I hope we can help each other and be friends. I would love to have you for my pen pal and for our friendship to grow. When you write me back, tell me about what it is like there. Yes, I'll be let down if you don't write me back because I have hope that you will and I'm looking forward to reading what you'll have to say back to me. I'll send you a picture of me in my next letter, that way you can put a face with my letters. Take care and I'll eagerly a wait to hear from you!

Sincerely,
[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

.....

a flower

7-7-98

Dear Professor,

I am a Jewish divorced lady and a mother. My age is 59.

When my former husband married a witch and a communist, (it does not always go together.) and took from me my darling small children, I very much felt like mailing him a bomb!

I am also a lady who hates ^{be} to be photographed particularly in my bathroom, and was fascinated by small houses with privacy where the big brother was not watching.

Would like to correspond -